To Whom it May Concern

Neu Professional have supported us with our International Recruitment Project(s) over the last couple of years. They have offered a high calibre of nurses for interview and the team have provided continued support to ensure our candidates have the best possible recruitment experience. We are supported by a knowledgeable Team who take care of all the recruitment processes on our behalf. Neu pride themselves in the pastoral support they offer to their candidates which extends way beyond the nurses joining organisation and is supportive of our own pastoral offer. We continuously monitor the experience of our nurses and we have found that working with NEU Professionals is a true partnership and unlike in most supplier relationships they don't wait to be told how to make improvements but support and help us when we feel there are areas where we could make the nurses' experiences even better.

We have surveyed the nurses recruited with NEU and they have all fed back positively about the agency - specifically that the agency responded quickly and clearly to them and that they were supported in travel - having all the knowledge and documentation that they needed to be able to get to the UK. They have responded positively about being able to use online and mobile groups facilitated by NEU to build relationships with their peers and they are well informed about moving to the UK, using both their own research and the information provided to them by the Trusts. NEU desire to be the best and are constantly looking to increase the number of Countries they work with. This means we are able to continue our recruitment during the recent Indian pause.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require any further information.
